Letters to Bach, the Israeli singer and composer's previous work, consisted of twelve interpretations of a dozen of Bach's instrumental pieces. However, Afterallogy, her most recent work, points to the great American musical tradition of the 20th century-jazz. Together with Gil Dor, her inseparable guitarist, she adapts jazz standards such as "Anything goes", "Every time we say goodbye" and "My funny Valentine". On occasion of her return to live performances in 2021, Noa will interpret pieces from both albums, as well as some of her own classic pieces from her intense and productive musical career.

Noa is a world renowned singer-songwriter of Yeminite origins, born in Israel and raised in Nueva York, who has performed at the most prestigious venues all over the world. Throughout her career she has had Pat Metheny's and Quincy Jones' support and production collaboration, and has shared the stage with Stevie Wonder, Sting and Andrea Bocelli, amongst many other artists.
