"Golondrinas is inspired by the fascinating and almost forgotten story of some enterprising, hard-working women in the Pyrenees, who between 1850 and 1936 migrated every year. They crossed over mountains on their way to France, and nearly crossed all of Spain on foot, accompanied only by women. Through their memories, we are transported on a journey full of light and shadows, efforts, tenacity and resistence, beauty, the spirit of self-improvement and freedom." Violeta Borruel
The Compañía Violeta Borruel was founded in 2019. Its productions seek to cause spectators to reflect and to be moved by means of a flowing, aesthetic and very physical language, often combined with other arts. They have performed in different theatres in Spain, in international festivals and fairs, and form part of the Catalogues of the Network of Theatres of Navarre and Aragon.
